Brief Report:

The screening of the film was organized in the Hall No. 22 of the college on 16/08/2018 at 12.20 pm. The screening was meant to provide the students newer insights into understanding the film and the society from which the film has been scripted. The short film “An Occurrence at the Owl Creek Bridge” deals with various technical aspects of film-making as well as then socio-historical conditions of American Civil War. The short film is based on an eponymous short story by Ambrose Bierce. The short film begins with a description of a civilian, Peyton Farquhar, standing on Owl Creek Bridge, preparing to be executed by hanging. Farquhar is a Confederate sympathizer, and the bridge is a strategic location for the Union Army. As the execution is about to take place, Farquhar's thoughts wander to his family and his motivations for supporting the Confederacy.

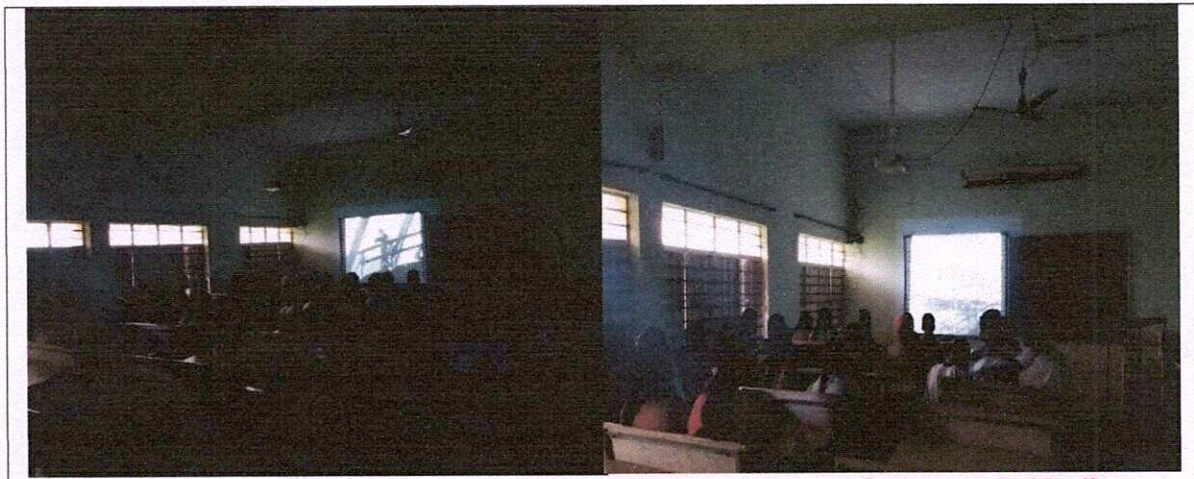

During the moments between giving orders for Farquhar's execution and the actual execution, the director uses the film technique of Time Warping. The brief moments of his life are later expanded into about 15 minutes in the film. Everyone is silent and standing at attention except for the executioners in the centre. As Farquhar hangs on the bridge, he hears the ticking of his watch as loud as a blacksmith's hammer. Farquhar thinks of freeing his hands and trying to escape as the captain nods to the sergeant to begin the execution. Finally, he is hanged till death. The film ends with disappointment to the spectators. The film shows the human mind and the value of life. Dr. D. S. Choudhari explained the film making techniques used in the film to the students. The students asked questions on the film. A discussion among the students followed the screening. The use of time-warp tool was explained with examples. The use of music in the movie was also focused in the movie.
